Risk Profile Information

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions are could impact the capacity to pay you. For any further details on investment risks, please refer in particular to the Risks section of the Fund's Prospectus.

Glossary

Average Rating

A weighted average credit rating provides investors with insight into a fund's overall credit quality, designated as AAA, BBB, or CCC. The weighted-average credit rating is calculated by considering the proportion of the value of each individual credit rating and noting it as a percentage of the entire portfolio thereby producing the average credit rating.

Current Yield

In fixed income investing, a bond's current yield is an investment's annual income, including both interest payments and dividends payments, which are then divided by the current price of the security.

Duration

The duration represents the length of time for which capital is "tied up" in a bond investment. The concept of duration takes account of the time structure of returning cash flows (such as coupon repayments). The average duration of the portfolio is derived from the weighted average duration of the individual securities

ETF

Exchange traded fund. A type of fund that is traded on the stockmarket like ordinary shares. ETFs can be bought and sold during trading hours, like ordinary shares, whereas other types of funds are priced once a day only.

Investment Method

Strategy employed by the fund to achieve its objective.

Price/Book

The dividend yield is the rate of return on an investment expressed as a percentage. The yield is calculated by dividing the amount you receive annually in dividends or interest by the amount you spent to purchase the investment.

Price/Earnings

The Price/Earnings ratio is a weighted average of the Price/Earnings of the shares in the underlying fund's portfolio. The P/E ratio of a security is calculated by dividing the current price of the security by its trailing 12-month earnings per share.

Dividend Yield

The dividend yield is the rate of return on an investment expressed as a percentage. The yield is calculated by dividing the amount you receive annually in dividends or interest by the amount you spent to purchase the investment.

Tracking Error Volatility

This measure describes the volatility of a fund's return divergence compared to a reference index.

Volatility

The volatility of a mutual investment fund indicates the fluctuations in the fund's return over time and consequently represents the tendency of the unit values to deviate from the average value (o unit) over the period under consideration.

Weighted Average Coupon

A coupon represents the regular interest payments of a bond and is specified as a percentage of the par/face value of the bond. The average coupon is derived by taking the weighted average of all coupons within the fund.

Weighted Average Life

Weighted Average Life (WAL) is a metric used to determine the average time it takes for the principal of an investment to be repaid.

Yield to Worst

The portfolio Yield to Worst refers only to the component of fixed income and is calculated as a weighted average of returns of the single bond instruments, where the weighting takes place with respect to the value of the individual instrument. Returns hold account of the operating probabilities of the optional components possibly present in the bonds.
