CPER | LS Copper ETC

Investment Objective

The LS Copper ETC is a fully collateralised, UCITS eligible Exchange-Traded Commodity (ETC) designed to reflect the daily changes (in percentage terms) of the spot price of Copper as measured by the changes in the price of Copper future contracts as described in the LS Copper Strategy, less expenses.

LS Copper Strategy

The LS Copper Strategy is designed as a systematic strategy to provide investors with a total return exposure to Copper Futures that are continuously rolled on a pre-determined rolling schedule starting on the sixth Futures Exchange Business Day of the relevant roll month. The Portfolio Administrator may, however, deviate from this strategy and/or invest in related Copper ETPs to deal with market disruptions or to improve the liquidity and tracking of the LS Copper ETC.

Key Benefits

- Low cost ETC exposure to Copper.
- Earn a return on the cash held referencing benchmark rates.
- Trade with your local broker in multiple currencies (no FX charges).
- Physically-backed: Underlying assets held, no swaps or OTC derivatives.
- Liquid. Trades on exchange, with multiple market makers providing intraday liquidity.
- Simple to trade: like any other stock – but simpler (no need for W-8BENs).

Key Risks

- Highly concentrated in one commodity. Commodity prices and futures may experience high volatility and are not appropriate for all investors.
- Investors can lose the full value of their initial investment (but not more).
- Daily changes in the price of the ETC may not closely track daily changes in the spot price of Copper, as the spot price is not in itself investable.
- Please see the 'Risks Factors' section of the Prospectus for a more detailed discussion of the potential risks associated with an investment in this product.
