

SUMMARY RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 3 years in accordance with the recommended holding period.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

Tikehau 2025 is a dated "buy and hold strategy" which seeks to generate value over the medium term from a portfolio made up primarily of debt securities belonging to the investment grade category, supplemented, within the limit of 50% of its net assets, by high yield debt securities, which can have speculative characteristics. The Fund is to be dissolved on 31 December 2025. Although its strategy is mainly based on the carry of bonds, the Management Company can make trades, in the event of new market opportunities or identification of a rise in the risk of default of one of the issuers in the portfolio.

NEWSLETTER JUNE 2025

TIKEHAU 2025 – R-DIS-EUR

MARKET OUTLOOK

Geopolitics. Tensions in the Middle East escalated in June with Israeli and then American strikes on Iranian nuclear facilities. The Iranian response remained contained, with a symbolic attack on an American base in Qatar and a de-escalation around the Strait of Hormuz. Iran also hinted at a diplomatic outcome, easing tensions on the oil market: Brent crude fell back to $67, after peaking at close to $80. On the trade front, progress was made in Sino-American negotiations, notably with China granting temporary access to rare earth suppliers. The next key deadline remains July 9, when new US tariffs are due to come into force.

Macroeconomics. US activity remains solid, underpinned by the resilience of the labor market and wages. In the Eurozone, despite an upward revision of Q1 GDP (+0.6%), Q2 indicators point to a slowdown, penalized by the industrial downturn in Germany and France. Inflation is gradually decelerating in Europe, driven by lower energy prices, while services remain under pressure.

Central banks. The ECB cut rates by 25 bp in June, while adopting a more cautious tone going forward. The Fed kept rates unchanged, supported by resilient employment and persistent inflationary pressures. However, the market is anticipating two rate cuts between now and the end of the year, against the backdrop of an expected economic slowdown.

Financial markets. Equity markets diverged, with the S&P 500 up +5.0% and the Euro Stoxx 50 down -1.2%. In terms of interest rates, US yields fell (-18 bp at 2 years, -17 bp at 10 years), while European yields rose again (+11 bp for the 10-year Bund). Credit continued to show positive momentum, with risk premiums tightening on both Investment Grade (ER000®, -6 bp) and High Yield (HECO®, -16 bp). This favorable environment supported primary activity, with 29 high yield issues in Europe for a record 26 billion euros.

Fund positioning.

Tikehau 2025 posted a positive performance in June, but underperformed the Investment Grade 1-3 years index (ER01®, +0.30%), used for information purposes only, due to its very short positioning, given the maturity of the securities in the portfolio. All sectors contributed positively to the fund's performance, with subordinated financials once again standing out as the main contributor to performance over the month.

Please note that entry and exit fees have been applied since July 1, 2023, in accordance with the provisions of the prospectus.

Investors' attention is drawn to the fact that the Tikehau 2025 fund will be merged into the Tikehau 2029 fund managed by TIM on 30/09/2025. Please refer to the "Letter to unitholders" dated 30/06/2025 available on the management company's website for further details on the terms and conditions of this transaction.

<sup>1</sup> The yield is a characteristic of the portfolio as of the date of this document: it is by no means an investment objective. It is calculated as a weighted average of our estimates of the yields of the bonds held in the portfolio until their likely call dates, as assessed by the asset management company (Tikehau IM). The yield may differ from the returns realized at the end of the product's life, notably depending on the reinvestment conditions of cash generated by potential redemptions or refinancings between their effective dates and the maturity of the product. The yield displayed does not take into account fees, potential hedging costs, and does not constitute a promise of return or performance of the fund. It may change over time depending on market conditions and does not reflect potential defaults by issuers. Furthermore, the net yield after fees will systematically be lower. Yield to maturity is not a reliable indicator of portfolio return and should under no circumstances be considered an investment objective or a guarantee. The yield is determined using a weighted average of the cross currency yields for each bond. The cross-currency yields are derived by applying FX forward curves to estimate the bonds' future cashflows in the share class currency.
