(Previously known as Rockefeller US ESG Equity UCITS)

(USD Class F Unhedged Acc)

September 2022

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Rockefeller US Equity ESG Improvers UCITS Fund is actively managed and seeks to outperform the Russell 3000® Index over a full market cycle. The Fund employs a bottom-up, fundamental investment approach with a long-term horizon, while integrating Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Improvers research to provide additional insight into a company's long-term competitive edge and help identify risks and opportunities that equity analysis alone might not fully consider. Our collaborative investment team seeks to identify an active portfolio of compelling investment opportunities (typically 30 to 55 names) in U.S. companies that meet our ESG criteria.

ESG PORTFOLIO ENGAGEMENT UPDATE

- Our meeting with Becton, Dickinson and Company (BDX) included representatives from the Corporate Secretary, investor relations, ESG, Inclusion and Diversity, Executive Compensation, and Regulatory teams. Our three main topics of discussion included the EPA's recent ethaline oxide warning, the current competitive workforce landscape, and BDX's climate transition plan. BDX assured us that all its internally operated sterilization plants adhere to and exceed regulations and compliance for safety and emissions, and that the EPA's warning speaks more to an as-yet determined regulatory change than it does any potential wrongdoing on the part of BDX. We were encouraged to learn that BDX measures representation, promotion, and retention rates across the firm, and we urged the team to both dissect how those rates differ across minority status and to translate that data into an efficacy analysis of their numerous DEI initiatives. Because we did not have BDX's climate transition plan experts on the call, the team offered to schedule a follow up conversation with representatives from both the plan's authors and from their Sustainable Medical Technology Institute.
- As Reinsurance Group of America (RGA) published its inaugural ESG report in late August, the focus of our call covered feedback on report contents, implementation structure for the report's goals, and an exploration of RGA's current and potential use-case for carbon transition assessments (CTAs) across business lines. We encouraged RGA to start the modeling process of climate change scenarios on morbidity and mortality.

ROCKEFELLER ASSET MANAGEMENT

Rockefeller Asset Management, a division of Rockefeller Capital Management, offers global, U.S., non-U.S., and environmental, social and governance ("ESG") equity strategies, as well as a range of tax-exempt and taxable fixed income strategies, serving institutions, high net-worth individuals and families. With over 30 years of experience in global investing, we pair our distinctive worldview and long-term investment horizon with thorough fundamental research combining traditional and non-traditional analysis. We offer strategies that seek to outperform benchmarks over multiple market cycles, driven by a disciplined investment process in a highly collaborative team culture. As of 30 September 2022, Rockefeller Asset Management had $9.5B in assets under management.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

We believe market inefficiencies occur as a result of too much focus on short-term results, a lack of global perspective and the persistence of behavioral biases, especially during periods of market extremes. In our view, investment success is built on a long-term horizon set within a global research framework incorporating traditional and non-traditional analysis highlighting often overlooked risks and opportunities.

WHY ROCKEFELLER ASSET MANAGEMENT

We believe our edge, which stems from over four decades of ESG experience, is our integrated investment approach of fundamental and ESG analysis, reinforced by active engagement with companies we invest in. Research is conducted in-house with dedicated ESG and Equity analysts working together using both proprietary and external research.

Within the investment management industry, true ESG integration is often proclaimed, but seldom practiced. ESG activities are often tangential or an overlay to the investment process. Our ESG analysts collaborate in each of our team's investment decisions, often highlighting overlooked risks and opportunities. The goal throughout the process is to enhance investment insight which often is derived from non-quantifiable topics such as governance and supply chain issues. The team's reputation coupled with the Rockefeller's longstanding commitment to ESG allows us to engage with management teams, boards, and corporate social responsibility teams to catalyze change.

The Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) is an international network of investors (supported by, but not part of, the United Nations) working to understand the investment implications of ESG factors and to support its international network of investor "signatories" in incorporating these factors into their investment and ownership decisions. The PRI Awards recognize signatories in four ESG-related categories. Signatories are invited to nominate projects and entries are assessed by an independent panel of judges who score them against category-specific criteria. These awards are subjective and do not reflect on the future performance or ESG capabilities of Rockefeller. Furthermore, these awards do not reflect an endorsement of Rockefeller by PRI or any of the judges or signatories.

Important Disclosures for Non-U.S. Recipients

All investing involves risk including the possible loss of principal. Investments will rise and fall with market fluctuations and investor capital is at risk. Investors investing in strategies denominated in non-local currency should be aware of the risk of currency exchange fluctuations that may cause a loss of principal. These risks, among others are further described in the Fund's Prospectus, Supplement and Key Investor Information Documents ("KIID"). The Fund may be offered in different share classes, which are subject to different fees and expenses (which may affect performances).
