ALPINUM ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENTS FUND CLASS A (USD)

MARCH 2025

Marketing Communication

Investment Objective

The Fund has the goal to achieve long-term, risk adjusted capital appreciation by adhering investment principles of absolute return management. The target is to capture the premiums of credit and other niche strategies regarding their complexity and their lower liquidity as compared to the traditional asset class segments. To achieve this, the Fund invests in various investment funds and fund-like investment instruments which themselves pursue alternative investment strategies across various asset classes. Thanks to its low correlation the Fund acts as a valuable portfolio diversifier with respect to equity and credit beta exposure.

Investment Strategy

The Fund is actively managed and seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing worldwide across a range of market sectors and instruments, while primarily focusing on alternative investment strategies. Targeted alternative investments will typically include the following strategies: Macro, Relative Value, Event Driven, Credit Long-Short, Equity Long-Short and Multi-Strategy. To a smaller extent, the Fund will use other instruments to help achieving the investment objective, such as Long-Only Funds or direct investment securities including derivative financial instruments.

Market- & Portfolio Comment

Market Comment

Equity markets retreated in March amid growth concerns in the US and mixed signals from the White House regarding future tariff policy. In Europe, the German financial injection of EUR 1 Tr for defence and infrastructure heralded a new era. By the end of the month, the MSCI World Equity Index (hedged) corrected by -5.0% (YTD -2.6%). The ICE BofAML Global High Yield Index edged -0.2% lower, ending the month with a yield to worst (YTW) of 7.4%. The 10-year US Treasury yield stayed flat month over month and ended at 4.21%. The EUR/USD gained +4.2% and closed at 1.08, Brent oil price increased to USD 74.8, a gain of +3.4%, while the broad Bloomberg Commodity TR Index ended +3.9% higher.

Portfolio Comment

The Alternative Investments Fund ("Fund") decreased by -0.7% (YTD +0.7%) in the reporting month, while the HFRX Global Hedge Fund Index ("HFRX") closed with -0.8% (YTD +0.5%). Since inception, the Fund has returned +73.2%, what compares to +20.4% for the HFRX. The portfolio continues to weather a very difficult environment, but was unable to completely escape the volatility. Looking at the portfolio components, we can conclude that the 'return stabilisers' kept their word and performed slightly positive, while the minus came from the 'income focus' component and the 'return enhancers'. On the strategy side, we see that the higher credit spreads start to take its toll on some credit managers. Equity strategies were down too, partly compensated by very positive performance of Global Macro strategies. Careful diversification pays off, especially in very turbulent times; we continue to avoid any concentrations wherever possible and focus on achieving a healthy balance through portfolio construction. Thanks to access to non-traditional sources of return with low correlation to equity and bond markets, alternative investments and hedge funds will continue to serve as a valuable stabiliser in a portfolio throughout 2025.
