MAIN RISKS

Capital loss Risk: The investments in the funds are subject to market fluctuations and the risks inherent in investments in securities. The value of investments and the income they generate may go down as well as up and it is possible that investors will not recover their initial outlay, the funds described being at risk of capital loss.

Liquidity Risk: This risk arises from the difficulty of selling an asset at a fair market price and at a desired time due to lack of buyers.

Derivatives Risk: When investing in over the counter or listed derivatives, the Fund aims to hedge and/or to leverage the yield of its position. The attention of the investor is drawn to the fact that leverage increases the volatility of the sub fund.

Credit Risk: this risk relates to the ability of an issuer to honor its commitments: downgrades of an issue or issuer rating may lead to a drop in the value of associated bonds.

Counterparty Risk: This risk is associated with the ability of a counterparty in an Over the Counter financial transaction to fulfil its commitments like payment, delivery and reimbursement.

ESG Risk : Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Investment Risk: The lack of common or harmonized definitions and labels integrating ESG and sustainability criteria at EU level may result in different approaches by managers when setting ESG objectives. This also means that it may be difficult to compare strategies integrating ESG and sustainability criteria to the extent that the selection and weightings applied to select investments may be based on metrics that may share the same name but have different underlying meanings. In evaluating a security based on the ESG and sustainability criteria, the Investment Manager may also use data sources provided by external ESG research providers. Given the evolving nature of ESG, these data sources may for the time being be incomplete, inaccurate or unavailable. Applying responsible business conduct standards in the investment process may lead to the exclusion of securities of certain issuers. Consequently, the Sub-Fund's performance may at times be better or worse than the performance of comparable funds that do not apply such standards.

For a Complete description and definition of risks, please consult the last available prospectus and KID of the funds. Investors considering subscribing to a fund should read carefully its most recent prospectus and KID that can be downloaded free of charge from our site www.bnpparibas-am.com.

GLOSSARY (GENERAL)

Alpha: Alpha is an indicator used to measure the value added by an active portfolio manager relative to a passive exposure to a benchmark. A positive alpha expresses an outperformance whereas a negative alpha indicates an underperformance. A simple way to calculate alpha is to subtract a portfolio's expected return (based on the benchmark's performance adjusted with the beta of the portfolio, see Beta definition for further details). For instance, an alpha of 0.50 means that the portfolio outperformed the market-based return (benchmark's performance adjusted from the Beta exposure of the portfolio) by 0.50%.

Beta: Beta is a measure of portfolio market risk; financial indices (such as MSCI World) represent the market and are consistent with the portfolio's guidelines. It measures the sensitivity of portfolio performance to the performance of the market. For example, a beta of 1.5 means the portfolio will move by 1.5% for a market performance of 1%. Mathematically, it is the correlation between the portfolio and the market multiplied by their ratio of volatilities.

Convexity: Convexity measures the sensitivity of the price to interest rate fluctuations. Generally, bonds exhibit positive convexity.

Coupon: A certificate attached to a bearer security (share or bond) that entitles the holder to payment of dividend or interest. A bond will have one coupon for each interest payment.

Equity risk: Equity risk is "the financial risk involved in holding equity in a particular investment." Equity risk often refers to equity in companies through the purchase of stocks, and does not commonly refer to the risk in paying into real estate or building equity in properties.

Investment grade: Investment grade is a high consideration of credit quality (low probability of default) assigned by a rating agency. For instance, to be classified investment grade according to Standard and Poor's, a bond or an issuer must have a rating greater than BBB-. Investment grade is opposed to high yield.

Maturity: Residual duration before the redemption of the principal amount of a bond.

Modified duration: A measure of a bond's sensitivity to changes in interest rates. The longer the remaining term to maturity, the more bond prices react to a change in interest rates, and the higher the duration. The rule is that if the yield rises or falls by 1%, the value of the bond will fluctuate by 1% x duration.

R²: The Correlation Coefficient indicates the strength and direction of a linear relationship between fund performance and benchmark. The coefficient is an element of [-1,1], where 1 equals a perfectly correlated increasing linear relationship, -1 equals a perfectly correlated decreasing linear relationship, and 0 means that there is no linear correlation.

Rating: An evaluation of a corporate or municipal bond's relative safety from an investment standpoint. Basically, it scrutinizes the issuer's ability to repay principal and make interest payments.

Sharpe ratio: A measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It indicates the return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of risk. It is calculated by dividing the difference between the return and the risk-free rate by the standard deviation of the return on the investment. The Sharpe ratio indicates whether the excess return was obtained thanks to good investment management or by taking additional risk. The higher the ratio, the better the risk-adjusted return.

Volatility: An asset's volatility is the standard deviation of its return. As a measure of dispersion, it evaluates the uncertainty of asset prices, which is often equated to their risk. Volatility can be calculated ex post (retrospectively) or estimated ex ante (anticipatively).

YTM (Yield To Maturity): A yield calculation that takes into account the relationship between a security's maturity value, time to maturity, current price, and coupon yield.

YTP (Yield to put) / YTM (Yield to Maturity): Yield to maturity has a few common variations that are important to know. One such variation is Yield to put (YTP) that is the interest rate that investors would receive if they held the bond until its put date.

Article 8 : An Article 8 Fund under SFDR is defined as "a Fund which promotes, among other characteristics, environmental or social characteristics, or a combination of those characteristics, provided that the companies in which the investments are made follow good governance practices."
