ALPINUM CREDIT FUND CLASS A (USD)

Marketing Communication

APRIL 2025

Investment Objective

The Fund invests opportunistically in a large variety of fixed income instruments on a global basis. While the majority of the assets are allocated in securities in the U.S. and in Europe, the fund does also opportunistically invest in emerging debt markets. It is the Fund's goal to provide the best risk adjusted return in the prevailing market environment. Over a full investment cycle, the Fund targets to achieve a return of SOFR+2-3% p.a. The Fund suits well as a basis investment in the global fixed income markets. This is not only based on the attractive and constant cash flow streams of the underlyings, but also on the active portfolio rotation towards the most attractive investment opportunities. In order to achieve the target return, the Fund will be exposed to mark-to-market risk, which is primarily geared towards credit spread and interest rate risk.

Investment Strategy

The Fund is actively managed and employs a focused multi-manager concept, whereas a significant part of the assets can be held via separated accounts under the securitized vehicle of the fund. This approach allows the fund to co-invest with the most talented and sophisticated fixed income managers worldwide with a tailor-made mandate, but without being negatively affected by external fund flows as it is the case with a classical FoF concept. This set up provides the investment manager the full transparency on the securities held in the portfolio at all times and it gives also the ability to constantly and effectively monitor the risk of the portfolio. The fund's current structural investment focus is on North American and European short dated high yield bonds and loans.

Portfolio Comment

Two massive market shocks triggered by the announcement of new US tariffs and the "US crisis of confidence", when the independence of the US Federal Reserve was severely called in question, dominated markets in April. The Alpinum Credit Fund again demonstrated its protective character, despite a slight loss of -0.44%. The core portfolio with its structurally low duration and its focus on investments with a very low probability of default - primarily non-cyclical, short-dated high yield bonds and senior secured loans - fell slightly by -0.2% (attribution of -0.1%), with short-term bonds achieving a positive performance of +0.3%, while loans closed the month with around -0.4%. The other components also faced headwinds in an erratic market. Nevertheless, our small allocation to emerging debt closed slightly up, while the structured credit bucket posted a performance of -1.8% (attribution of -0.1%). Our alternative income allocation (with a low correlation to the market) closed the month neutral and lent stability to the portfolio. The 'Opportunistic Bucket' closed the month with a performance of -0.5% (attribution of -0.06%). In the current volatile environment, we keep the duration position very flexible, which is low at 1.2 years at per the end of the month.
