Important risk considerations

Currency Hedging Risk: Hedging currency risks may protect investors against a decrease in the value of the Reference Currency relative to the Hedged Share Class, but it may also preclude investors from benefiting from an increase in the value of such currencies. All costs and gains/losses of hedging transactions are borne by the relevant Hedged Share Classes.

Currency Risk: Sub-Funds are invested in securities denominated in different currencies other than the Reference Currency. As a result, changes in the value of the Reference Currency compared to other currencies will affect the value in the Reference Currency of any securities denominated in another currency.

Emerging Markets Risk: The price of emerging market securities is subject to higher risk of price fluctuation due to possible lack of adequate political, economic, legal, trading liquidity structures and relatively lower liquidity.

ESG/Sustainability Risk: An environmental, social or governance risk is an event or condition that, if occurs, can cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of the investments made by the fund. There is no guarantee that the measures implemented by the Manager to assess and manage Sustainability Risks will prevent the fund incurring losses. RBC BlueBay's ESG analysis can rely on input from external providers. Such data may be inaccurate, incomplete or unavailable and RBC BlueBay could assess the sustainability risks of securities held incorrectly.

International Investment Risk: Investments on an international basis are subject to uncertainties, including; changes in government policies, taxation, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, accounting and financial reporting standards, and fluctuations in value due to discrepancy of currency.

Large Shareholder Risk: Investors holding a large portion of issued and outstanding shares of a Sub-Fund are likely to incur transaction costs in case of redemptions.

Liquidity Risk: Under highly volatile markets, securities may not be sold as quickly or easily, which could have an influence on meeting redemption requests on demand.

Market Risk: The market value of a Sub-Fund's investments will fluctuate based on specific company developments, broader equity or fixed-income market conditions, economic and financial conditions.

Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect Risk: Investments made through Stock Connect may be subject to greater risk factors to comply with Stock Connect rules and counterparty risks with respect to ChinaClear.

Further details of the risks that apply to the fund can be found in the funds prospectus.

Glossary of terms

Accumulation (acc): Share classes can be accumulation (acc) or income (dist). With accumulation units any income is retained within the fund, increasing the value of the units.

Active share: Active share is a measure of the difference in allocation of the holdings of a portfolio compared to the holdings of its benchmark.

Annual management fee: Annual fee charged by the fund manager for management of the fund, expressed as a percentage.

Article 6 (SFDR): Financial products, not falling into either the Article 8 or 9 category. Where such products deem sustainability risks to be relevant to the returns of the product, the regulation requires transparency of the integration of sustainability risks. Where such risks are not deemed relevant, the regulation requires an explanation of the reasons. Such products are not subject to any of the additional transparency required for Article 8 or 9 products.

Article 8 (SFDR): Financial products where sustainable investment is not the objective, but they are promoting environmental or social characteristics (or a combination of those characteristics), provided that the companies in which the investments are made follow good governance practices. The regulation requires such products to have additional transparency on the promotion of environmental or characteristics.

Article 9 (SFDR): Financial products with sustainable investment as its objective. The regulation requires such products to have additional transparency of sustainable investments.

Asset allocation/breakdown: Breakdown of the fund in percentage fund value by asset.

Attribution: Sector/country attribution results are calculated over a trailing 12 month period. The objective of performance attribution is to explain portfolio performance relative to a benchmark, identify the sources of excess return, and relate them to active decisions by the portfolio manager. Fund sector/country weights in the attribution table are based on average weights for the period. Cash holdings are not included in attribution analysis thus security selection and sector/country allocation may not add up to the total portfolio return calculated using the NAV of the fund.

Benchmark: An index that is used to reference the overall investment performance of the fund. Calculated by a 3rd party using a documented methodology.

Contributors (Top/Bottom): Contribution in percentage terms that each holding contributed to fund performance (positive or negative) across the previous 1 month period.

Distribution (dist): Share classes can be accumulation (acc) or income (dist). With income units any income generated within the fund is distributed to the investor.

Environmental, social & governance (ESG): A set of aspects, environmental, social and governance related, that may be considered in investment. How ESG considerations are taken into account will differ for each fund. ESG integration is the incorporation of material ESG factors into investment decision making with an aim to identify potential risks and opportunities and improve long-term, risk-adjusted returns. Note: Certain exposure and security types do not integrate ESG factors, including but not limited to certain currency or derivative instruments. Please read a fund's prospectus for further details.

Equities: Investments in a company(s) by purchasing shares of that company in the stock market. Investor returns come in either the form of capital gains/losses (share price changes) and/or income (dividends).

Fixed income: Financial instruments issued by governments and corporations as a way to raise money, where the issuer agrees to pay back the face value of the loan on a specific date, and to pay periodic interest payments (coupons) along the way.

Fund domicile: The country in which the fund is legally incorporated.

Fund size: Total value of assets of the fund.

Fund type: The legal structure of the fund.

Geographic allocation: Breakdown of the fund in percentage of total fund value grouped by countries.

Hedged: A risk management strategy that involves buying or selling an investment or currency to potentially help reduce the risk of loss of an existing position.

Holdings: Number of unique holdings held by the fund, excluding cash positions.

Inception date: The date when the fund or share class launched for investors.

Investment objective: The investment target of the fund set out in the prospectus.

Market capitalisation: Total value of a company's outstanding shares of stock, which include publicly traded shares plus restricted shares held by company officers and insiders.

NAV: The net value of an investment fund's assets less its liabilities, divided by the number of shares outstanding. NAV is calculated at the end of each trading day based on the closing market prices of the portfolio's securities and is expressed as a 'per share' value.

Portfolio turnover: Portfolio turnover is a measure of how quickly securities in a fund are either bought or sold by the fund's managers, over a given period of time. This is measured as a percentage of the portfolio.

Sector Allocation: Breakdown of the fund in percentage of the total fund value, by sector allocation (GICS).

SFDR: An EU regulation on sustainability-related disclosures. It sets out rules for financial market participants and financial advisers on transparency with regulation to the integration of sustainability risks and the consideration of adverse sustainability impacts in their processes and the provision of sustainability-related information with respect to financial products.

Share class: Each class invests in the same portfolio of securities and has the same investment objectives and policies. Each class has different shareholder services and/or distribution arrangements with different fees and expenses.

Total expense ratio (TER): The ongoing costs associated with managing and operating an investment fund. This will include annual management fee, performance fee (if applicable) and some other expenses, but not the fund's transactions costs such as dealing commissions.
